Summer Party

Friday night was Party night in Maxey once again...with a twist. In a joint promotion with the Blue Bell Pub and its next door neighbours, Martin & Dawn, a grand Summer Party & BBQ took place on 23 July 1999.

On the Blue Bell side was the BBQ (in aid of the village's nominated charity for the year, Macmillan Cancer Relief) staffed up by volunteers (thanks principally to Jim, Harvey & Ian for some sterling work) and of course the public bar. Thanks in this area go to our enthusiastic landlord Adrian Cook and his team of deputies who kept the thirsty masses at bay with pulled pints and iced drinks aplenty.

On the entertainment side we had the String Quartet entertaining the lucky revelers with a cultured display during the early part of the evening. As the night wore on the more energetic among the assembled throng made their way to the disco marquee in the back garden to let it all hang out.

Regulars at the Blue Bell were delighted to mingle with Martin & Dawn's guests as well as seeing many infrequent pub visitors from the village and further afield. A quite staggering 300+ party goers made this a night that will go down in Maxey social folklore. We hope that the rumours of turning this into an annual event are true.

All proceeds from the pub side BBQ went to charity, with the Macmillan Nurses benefiting to the tune of £440.00. This brings the total raised in Maxey this year to over £4,000.00.

The early evening crowd gathers on the shared drive between the Blue Bell & the Party hosts Martin & Dawn. It was estimated that upwards of 300 people attended, making this one of the most popular events in recent village life.

Senior chefs for the night's festivities, Harvey (Check shirt), Jim (Shorts) & Ian (Orange T-Shirt) set up the BBQ in the early evening. Some tens of dozens of burgers, hotdogs & chicken pieces were served to the hungry crowd. Many thanks to Sandalls Butchers of Market Deeping who supplied all the meat.

Sponsorship Opportunity! The String Quartet that played at the Summer Party provided a cultured start to proceedings. At present they remain unsponsored.

Martin & Dawn's back garden was the venue for the disco marquee which attracted the more energetic of the crowd as the evening wore on after 11.00 p.m. It could be heard all over the village...sorry to anyone who was disturbed by the goings on.
