Maxey Village Millennium Photograph

To help celebrate and remember the Millennium the Maxey Village Hall Committee made the necessary arrangements with a professional photographer to take a group photograph of the whole village.

The event took place on Sunday 10 September 2000 at 12 noon in the park at Barn Close. The resulting photograph will be published in both the Village Newsletter and here on the web site.

The Village Hall Committee called upon all Maxey residents to take part in this historical and unique record of village life to celebrate the new millennium. Many residents, spanning several generations and nearly a hundred years in age, took their chance to leave their mark for future generations.

The event was helped on its way by beautiful late Autumn day giving a rich glow to the proceedings. Many thanks to the BBQ organisers and stall holders selling soft drinks. After the event a good proportion of folks managed to find themselves in the Blue Bell or its garden. No better way to end a such a special day.
